Laboratory – 7

Backend Server

1. Web server runs
2. Web server waiting for requests
3. When any request come, web server handles it

Create a new user

1. User submits user details
2. User makes API request to backend server
3. Backend server receives this request and returns response
4. User receives response
5. If fields are not correct, it shows error message
6. If fields are right, user makes second API request to get list of new users
7. Backend server returns new list of users
8. New list of users shown on the screen